

Week summary

Monte Carlo methods to approximate expected values

How to sample from distribution known up to normalization constant?