Indexing

- Indexing = Convert documents to data structures that enable fast search (precomputing as much as we can)

- Inverted index is the dominating indexing method for supporting basic search algorithms

- Other indices (e.g., document index) may be needed for feedback