Summary

- You can just average pre-trained word2vec vectors for your text

- You can do better with 1D convolutions that learn more complex features

- In the next video we'll continue to apply convolutions to text